

Smile Design Gallery and Bernard Hopkins present

The Socially Responsible Gallery Model

Organizations We Work With

Bowery Mission

The Bowery Mission has served homeless and hungry New Yorkers since 1879, when its neighborhood came to define the term "skid row." It caters to men, women, and children caught in the cycles of poverty, hopelessness and dependencies of many kinds, and to see their lives transformed to hope, joy, and lasting productivity.

The Survivor Initiative

The Survivor Initiative was founded in 2012 by a group of volunteers who were shocked to learn of the significant funding shortfalls for programs that support Holocaust survivors living below the national poverty line. The Survivor Initiative seeks to raise awareness and funds to assure survivors live their remaining years in dignity.

Hour Children

Hour Children provides practical and comprehensive services to incarcerated and formerly incarcerated women and their families. Hour Children is a leading provider of prison- and community-based programs that support these fragile women and their families as they work to transform their lives and achieve self-sufficiency

Westside Federation for Senior and Supportive Housing

WFSSH works to create a new form of housing. In conjunction with their residents, their mission is to provide safe and affordable housing that supports the dignity of each individual and enhances community both inside and outside their buildings.

“The Art of Boxing” celebrates Bernard Hopkins’ commitment to provide health care to the boxing community. 100% of the value of art sold will be matched in free dental care for uninsured boxers, trainers, and professionals in the boxing community.

Brent Estabrook

Brent is a unique fit for Smile Design Gallery, because he is a trained dentist, but no longer practices after pursuing his life long dream of becoming an artist. Brent Estabrook's playful work, ripe with sociopolitical commentary and fraught with the unbridled passion of a determined young artist, challenges the viewer to reconsider familiar images, products and ideas as he himself explores the liminal space between discovery and curiosity. Over the years he has transformed his study of Basquiat and Rembrandt into a style which is uniquely his own.

"Go Get Some," Brent Estabrook, 2015, oil on canvas, 60"x48"x2.5", $9,500

Ivben Taqiy

Ivben Taqiy is a Philadelphia based multi-media artist and entrepreneur. He is known for a wide range of projects including murals, large-scale abstract pieces, commissioned portraiture, and apparel design. His creative vision has cultivated the rise of 14 themed shows including the most recent Women in the Water. The aforementioned explored the very potent roles the women in the artist's life plays in a visceral, and imaginative way. Ivben's inspiration is driven from his resiliency, desire to succeed, as well as his love for his family, friends, and supporters. His scope is beyond the ordinary, and his philanthropic efforts and 20+ years of painting experience solidify him as visionary powerhouse.

"Greatest," Ivben Taqiy, 2015, acrylic on wood, 48"x18", $5,000

Justin Gilzene

Justin Gilzene is a Bronx, NY native and self-taught artist. His artist career began after leaving Monroe College where he was a culinary arts major to focus on his true passion in painting. Justin pairs a cartoon character with a pop culture figure to bring out a powerful message to help shed light and awareness within the flaws and injustice in our country, and also within ourselves. In 2014 he had his first solo exhibition at Cotton Hustle, created a special commission piece of artwork for NBA player Andre Drummond from the Detroit Pistons, also for rapper Drake.

"Muhammad Ali (Black Superman) - People's Champ," Justin Gilzene, 2015, acrylic on canvas, 24" x 36", $5,175

Robert Peterson

Robert's career as an artist began only a few years ago; finishing his first ever painting on the day he was told that a major surgery was required to improve his quality of life. The young Oklahoma artist was a Goodyear production worker who had been sketching his entire life. As his sketches became more popular, prospective high-profile clients were asking for paintings. Peterson's works are now collected by fans worldwide, including superstar rapper and producer, Swizz Beatz, Darrell Revis, Carlos Boozer, Lil Wayne, and a prince in Dubai.

Determined to be the BEST (F. Mayweather), Robert Peterson, Acrylic and mixed media, 36" x 48", $8,000

Young and Determined (M.Tyson), Robert Peterson, Acrylic and mixed media, 36" x 48", $8,000

Tonia Calderon

Tonia is a Mexican-Dutch-Indonesian painter and designer based in LA. She is primarily influenced by pop culture, and best known for her music inspired "Black&Gold" series; paintings of icons with lyrics written through hand painted images of the icons. She is well known and respected by the top musicians and producers in the music industry today. She's been featured by SF MoMA as an upcoming Hispanic female artist, and her work has been collected by celebrities such as Diddy, Lady Gaga, and Usher.

"Boxing is Easy," Tonia Calderon, 2015, mixed media on canvas, 36" x 36", $4,000

UR New York

URNY is collectively made up of Fernando Romero and Mike Baca, whose mission is to inspire creativity amongst the youth through their work. Their mixed media art pieces are bold to say the least, paying homage to the New York City Streets, and evoking a sense of familiarity that resonates with their viewers. Drawing inspiration from their environment, some of their go-to mediums include photography, silk-screen, graffiti. When they are not brainstorming and experimenting in their studio, they travel in the name of artistic philanthropy, reaching out and exposing the youth of various cultures to graffiti and self expression.

"Campbell's Condensed," UR New York, 2015, mixed media, 48" x 18", $10,000
